Cheap & Convenient Building.

Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been very successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for good dwelling-houses and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen at his factory, and has superior stock, so that he is now able to supply to those about to build the best articles of Door Frames, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or for a less quantity. The trouble and expense of building is very much lessened by having these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their place in the structure.

This business has now become so well systemized that only a small margin is left in knowing beforehand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of a uniform excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the factory, near the Rose Place, or at the store of M. S. Jackson, on Exchange st, and at either place any article may be obtained on large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is also prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and as well ... established in the business that no man should now ... think of building on the old and slow and imperfect methods.

TESTIMONIAL.

☞ Let all read the following, which is but one of the many testimonials now in my possession.

Mr. Wilbor,—Dear Sir,—I have found in the course of a long and extensive practice, that the seeds of Consumption are by no means to be found as arising from a fole peculiarity of habit, but that any serious draft upon the general constitution may leave a subject in that predisposed condition which induced disease. Thus in fever, in ... ve colds, and in rheumatic affections, those great ... ions to which the human frame, the lungs, being perhaps the ... most sensitive complication of the human ... ganization, are made to be the principal sufferers, and ... the ... lung, which is smaller than the right, is generally ... the ... first to ... Consumption ... consists of ... ation of the air passages as prevents a free circulation in the manner of respiration and necessary to pass ... and ... out each cell of the lungs. When the natural ... ion of the lungs continues, it is impossible to ... the disease known as consumption.

In a course of long practice, I had found Cod Liver Oil a ... and efficient agent to ... your notice ... of ... prepared by you, and known ... Cod Liver Oil and Lime. I instantly realized the propriety of your ... being for years an experimental chemist, ... the ... ing the ... properties of the Liver, ... and we have come out triumphantly in ... Clairvoyant—Madame Main.

This lady has travelled through the principal cities of the United States, and is acknowledged by the scientific and learned gentlemen to be superior to any Clairvoyant they ever conversed. She entranced herself, and can see any thing transpiring in all parts of the world, and describes persons and places. Also, advice given in law cases, business matters, matrimony, &c., &c. Her powers have enabled her to perform some of the most astonishing cures of diseases that have been pronounced incurable by physicians. She can see the workings of the physical system so clearly as to be able to describe the particular feelings of the nerves and locality of the disease, either present or absent. Her medicines are purely vegetable, being roots and herbs. All her prescriptions carefully put up by Dr. Main, at her residence, No. 16 Prospect street, Boston.

BALTIMORE, Jan 8, 1856.

Messrs C & J Marshall—Gentlemen At the request of your Agent in Baltimore, in regard to our opinion and experience of your copper coated spikes, we without hesitation say we believe them the best substitute for copper yet introduced, and better fastening for wood, inasmuch as you have the strength of iron with the preservative qualities of copper.

We have used some of your Spikes in old vessels as a substitute for copper, and have had occasion to draw them out a few years after words, and found them with the coppering as perfect as when they were driven, and with no appearance of oxidation.

Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) JOHN D. PARDY & BRO.

H. M. KENT'S,

MAIN STREET.

TO FARMERS.

Muriate of Lime!

The high price of Poudrette, Guano, &c., first led to the consumption of a fertilizer which should combine all their good qualities, but at less price should place it within the reach of the poorest of us cultivators of the soil. The increased demand of last season, together with the voluntary testimony of many who have fully proved its efficacy, leads the subscriber to believe that the object has been obtained in the manufacture of Lime; and has induced him to offer to the farmers for its manufacture. It has been tried upon almost every variety of soil, but is especially adapted to Cereal Plants, Grass, Corn, Wheat, &c.

A pamphlet, with testimonials, will be forwarded to any address, and all orders by mail, accompanied by the cash, punctually attended to. It is sold at the following fixed prices—Barrels not less than 10 Bbls., $1.50 per Bbl, over 10 Bbls. $1.25, or in Bags of 150 lbs., $1.75 per bag, delivered at any depot or wharf in Boston, or Charlestown.

RE-OPENING OF THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE. This (says the Providence Journal,) is the next demand of slavery. It has been hinted at long since, and it is made now in no equivocal terms. There is no hesitation, no attempt to soften or to color the plain proposition that it is for the interests of civilization to re-open the traffic which has, by common consent, been declared piracy. And it must be confessed that the arguments that sustain slavery on a moral and political and economical footing sustain also the re-opening of the African slave trade. Once grant the premises upon which the South now insists that slavery is a blessing, and it follows that the slave trade ought to be encouraged.

The re-opening of the slave trade will soon be incorporated into the creed of the Democratic party. We say this in entire seriousness.—From the point at which slavery now stands, to the re-opening of the slave trade would not be so great an advance as it has made within the last ten years. We think that upon the whole the attempt to force slavery upon Kansas, against the wishes of the people, and by fraud and violence to which the administration has lent its countenance, is an act not inferior in wickedness to that contemplated in the revival of the African slave trade.

An article in the Richmond Enquirer, shows the view which the friends of slavery already take of the matter, and the arguments that will soon be reproduced in the northern Democratic papers coupled with loud denunciations upon the "Black Republicans" and "Abolitionists" and "Nigger Worshippers" who resist such eminently just and "national" sentiments.

The following is an extract from the Enquirer's article:

The demands of civilization are now evaded with impunity. The world must have a supply of tropical productions, and there can be no tropical productions without compulsory labor. The obstructions thrown in the way of the African Slave Trade have not arrested the traffic, but they have reduced it until it is altogether inadequate to the wants of mankind.

KNOW NOTHING STRAIGHT WHIG FILLMOREISM.—At the recent "Clay Banquet" in New York, Ex-Governor Hunt made a speech in which he re-asserted that a large body of the South opposed and now condemn the abrogation of the Missouri restriction, and are prepared to assist any reasonable movement at the North for its re-enactment.

To show the deception of the above representation, as regards the South, and the real pro-slavery sentiments of the present Silver Grey remnant of the Northern Whig party, we copy the following from the New York Courier & Enquirer:

"Within a few days the friends of Mr. Fillmore at Washington, have given the most emphatic assurances to the Southern Know-Nothings, that in the event of his election to the Presidency, he will not, under any contingency, countenance or be a party to, any legislation which shall disturb that portion of the Kansas Nebraska act which repeals the Missouri Compromise."

On this declaration it is supposed the Know Nothings can carry a number of the Southern States."

THE PRESIDENCY. The Dover, (N. H.) Enquirer, in an article commendatory of the platform and objects upon which the People's Republican Convention has been called, makes the following remarks.

It is apparent that the Presidential battle is to be fought between the Republicans and Democrats, and that no other parties or candidates will be of any account in the contest.

* * * * * * *

Col. Fremont, though perhaps less known as a politician, has a National reputation not inferior to any of the other gentlemen named. As the intrepid leader of the pioneer bands in our Western frontiers, whose explorations have added so much to the extent and resources of the country—as the first Governor of California, under whose administration it was added to the Union as a free State—and as one of its Senators in Congress—he has exhibited abilities and energies of the highest order. His letter, which we publish in another column, shows that he is sound and true on the great question of the day;—that issue which is to be the paramount one at the approaching election. The fact that he has not been mixed up with the past struggles and animosities of parties will give him an additional element of strength, as it did to Gen. Taylor in 1848.

FRAUD.—The commercial reporter of the Alta California says that there is a singular story circulating on the street of a fraud of a very remarkable character having been recently perpetrated in that city—no less than reporting a vessel as having sailed from a foreign port for San Francisco (which vessel either never had an existence or else never was put up for that port,) and then raising money, by way of an advance, on forged bills of lading. The parties engaged raised about $13,000 by the operation.

THE "MONTHLY RAINBOW," is published at Philadelphia, by C. A. Crofut, at the low price of 50 cents per annum. It is a large and well filled paper, devoted to Scientific and Literary matters.

A DEFAULTING CLERK. A young clerk in the employ of Charles Burrall, a Wall street broker, has proved a defaulter to the amount of $12,000. It is supposed that he left on Saturday in the Atlantic.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE. The May number of Harper is out. A Visit to the Silver Mines of Central America, Commodore Perry's Expedition to Japan, and the Gnawers—the latter an interesting chapter in natural history—are the titles of the illustrated articles in this number. The present number completes the twelfth volume, which closes with the extraordinary issue of one hundred and sixty thousand copies. The publishers promise that no labor or expense will be spared to render it in every way, and in all its departments, still more worthy of the unparalleled favor with which it has been received."

HARPER'S STORY BOOK, for May, is entitled "The Museum"—entertaining and instructive.

PERCEPTION. A Novel by J. Fennimore Cooper. Complete in one volume.

THE OAK OPENING, OR THE BEE HUNTER. By J. Fennimore Cooper. Complete in one volume.

Messrs. Stringer & Townsend's new, complete and low priced edition of the works of the great American novelist has now nearly passed through the press. Full sets or single novels may be obtained of the Bangor agents, Messrs. Bugbee & Co. at the lowest prices, if applied for soon. Each volume contains a novel complete, printed and bound in handsome library style—good type and fine paper. The first of the above-named volumes contains William C. Bryant's discourse on the Life, Genius and Writings of Cooper, delivered on the occasion of his death, in 1852, at Metropolitan Hall, New York.

The tornado of the 12th was felt with great severity and caused immense damage in Lancaster county, Pa. The York county bridge, just finished across the Susquehanna river, at a cost of $60,000, was completely carried away leaving nothing but the piers. Several manufactories were either destroyed or greatly damaged, and one or two churches were injured.

THE PROPHETIC WAKEMAN ACQUITTED.—The jury in the murder trial of Samuel Sly, Widow Wakeman and Thankful Hersey, returned a verdict of not guilty, on the sole ground of insanity. They were all in one indictment. The result was generally anticipated.

NEW VERSION OF THE NICARAGUA NEWS.—The Agent of Walker's Nicarraguan Government at New Orleans denounces the rout of Col. Schlessinger as a falsehood. He says the account received from head-quarters is, that Col. Schlessinger had only 250 men, that he was attacked by nearly 3,000 Costa Ricans, and that he retreated to San Juan.

Capt. Guilford, the only passenger from Nicaragua who came in the George Law, gives the following version of the defeat of General Walker's troops:—

"Col. Schlessinger, at the head of 300 troops, was surprised in his camp by 1,000 Costa Rica troops with three pieces of field artillery in an open field, about 18 miles from Guanacasta.—He retreated to a position about a short distance, and will be able to sustain himself until reinforced from head-quarters. One hundred of his men are missing, supposed to have been taken prisoners; fifteen had arrived at Virgin Bay, as reported as above; also that the troops were unwilling to serve any longer under Colonel Schlessinger.

The steamer Cortez from San Francisco, was expected at San Juan del Sur, and orders had been left for her to land her passengers at Panama.

Gen. Walker had removed his head-quarters to Rivas, and the officers of the civil department are located at Leon.

Granada is now garrisoned by but one company, under command of Capt. J. E. Farnum, Lieut Col. Fiser acting as Governor of the city.

Cols. Fry and Sherk were ordered to reinforce Col. Schlessinger with full regiments at once.

Gen. Walker had been seriously ill, confined to his bed, but was rapidly recovering, and would soon take the field in person against the Costa Rican army.

SPEECH OF NAPOLEON ON THE PEACE. The Times Paris correspondent writes that when the news of the signing of the Treaty was announced to the Empero, he expressed himself to the following effect:

"He thanked the Plenipotentiaries for having come in person to him with such agreeable tidings. He observed that the result of their labors during the Conference was the complete realization of the speech delivered by Lord Clarendon in the House of Lords, and that the Powers which the Allies were determined on concluding was one which carried with it no humiliation to Russia, and which did not compromise the dignity or independence of any one. It was, it felt, such as great nations might propose or accept without degradation, and it therefore had all the elements of solidity and durability, and the added to so favorable a result was in a great measure owing to the conciliatory spirit and the moderation which marked the policy of England, and which was particularly felt in the course of the present Conference."

THE EMPEROR'S FEELINGS IN REGARD TO PEACE —CORDIALITY BETWEEN RUSSIA AND FRANCE.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Paris Constitutionnel, writing on the 7th of March (before the Treaty of Peace was signed) says:

The Emperor and Empress appear to be well satisfied with the progress of affairs. A courier arrived this morning from Count Orloff, the bearer, it is said, of very favorable accounts from Paris; and, during the reception, the Empress was so cheerful and animated as to excite the notice of the persons invited; and the Emperor conversed with different groups, to whom he declared that peace appeared to him to be more and more certain, and that he could now look upon it as an important work in hand, and with manifest modification in his English. To one of the groups composed of members of the corps diplomatique, the Emperor said, 'The war has only been an accident, or rather a misunderstanding. It will not have changed, in any way, the good personal relations between the Russians and the French, who have some remarkable points of resemblance. They have certainly fought too long, but it has always been with courtesy and humanity. The Russian prisoners have been treated by the French not as enemies, but as brothers; and I have been anxious that proper treatment should be shown to the prisoners whom the fortune of war has thrown into our hands. When peace shall have been signed—and everything leads me to believe that it is about to be so—France and Russia may hold out their hand to each other—may esteem and love each other as in the past; for although the struggle has been warm, it has been carried on in all honor, and without hatred.' The Emperor Alexander also spoke in the most affectionate manner of Napoleon III., and did full justice to the acts of his Government, and to his love of peace, which, he added, 'is as sincere as my own.'

BISHOP O'REILLY. The contradictory statements respecting the fate of the Rev. Bishop O'Reilley have been settled at last. He has probably perished with the Pacific. The Hartford Times of Wednesday says:

"The Rev. Mr. Hart, a pastor of St. Patrick's Church of this city, received a letter to-day per the Cambria, from the brother of Bishop O'Reilley in Ireland, dated March 27th, stating that Bishop O'Reilley sailed on board of the Pacific, and of course his fate is involved in that of the steamer.

The Rev. Mr. O'Reilley, reported as a passenger in the Cambria, is a nephew of the late Father Brady. He was expected by this steamer. Of course, then, the report that it was the Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Reilley who had arrived, is not correct."

POLITICIANS BOSTING — FROM A MEETING-HOUSE.—On Fast Day, as we learn from the Ellsworth American, Rev. Mr. Prince, of that place, preached a discourse, and in the course of his remarks expressed some fears that end effects to the cause of temperance would follow the repeal of the Maine Law. Whereupon, says the American:

"The wild-cat politicians who were present, boiled over with wrath, and the officiating preacher came near having, like St. Paul, 'fight beasts at Ephesus.' The Collector of Customs, at the mention of temperance and the Legislature, wrapped himself in his shawl, like a turtle swallowing his head and marched out. The 'Bashaw of 50 years standing'—the Sheriff, followed suit—then, par nobile fratrum, the gallant and consistent Col. Rice, followed, reversing the natural order of military tactics.—At this stage Dr. Parcher, the Pierce delegate to the Cincinnati Con. undertook to muzzle the pulpit, and asked for an explanation of the worthy Methodist preacher, of his remarks.—He replied very happily that at a proper place he would give it to him. Then the brother of the Col. whose straight is so steep that it leads the other way, asked to have the meeting organized. Whereupon the Superintendent of the Custom House seeing no chance to get another office, even if the organization was effected, walked out. Doctor sat down and order resigned in Wrath."

Mr. Wiseman Merrill, one of the best, if not the best American Tragedian, arrived in this city on Saturday evening, and took rooms at the Bangor House. Mr. Marshall has fulfilled engagements at all the principal theatres in the country, and has everywhere met with unparalleled success. Indeed, so popular has he become as a tragedian, that by many persons he is regarded as fully equal to Forrest. Mr. J. P. Addams, determined to present, to the patrons of the drama in Bangor a first class company, has effected an engagement with Mr. M. for the ensuing week, and he will make his first appearance at Norombega Hall, this evening, in the celebrated play of Ingomar, the Barbarian.

ACCIDENT. The accident which befel Mr. Chas. Lowell on Saturday, while driving to Bangor was not so very serious as at first reported about town, yet he was somewhat injured, and run great risk of having his neck broken.

While crossing over the causey beyond the Orange, the after part of the sleigh Chaise unshipped from the fore part, and Mr. Lowell was thrown out head foremost into the snow, his head coming in contact with the ground before the carriage or horse as to quite break the fall, thus stunning him and bruising his head and face very much. He was assisted by Mr. Troy—to whose house he got, through the mud and rain to get underway, and from which he was more fortunate in being conveyed by kindly ministrations hands, into a comfortable bed, and his persevering nature prevailed, and he proceeded to Bangor as he was.—Ellsworth American.

REPARTEE.—"My dear Joe, I am surprised at your taste in wearing another woman's hair on your head," said Mr. Smith to his wife.

"My dear Joe, I am astonished that you persist in wearing a coat of other sheep's wool on your back."

Smith sneaked.

SCENE IN A TILL. GOOD BAR ROOM.

BY HORACE'S STRAIGHT.

In the fall of 18—, I was traveling from Ithaca to Buffalo, in New York State, by stage. It was a bitter cold morning when we set out, and the roads were in there having been considerable mud only a few days before. The night we put up at Danville, and on the following morning when I awoke, I found that the earth was not only covered with snow, but that the snow was then falling fast.

After an early breakfast we set out on wheels, but at the end of eight miles we were forced to take refuge in the snow clogging up so that the wheels would not run. When night came on we found ourselves forced to stop at a small village only twenty miles from where we started in the morning.

A good supper was provided at the inn, and the place had the appearance of comfort. We had just sat down to it when the wind began to blow furiously, and we could see, by the dim light which the fire gave, that the snow was being whirled and driven about in a furious manner. There were in the small sitting-room, and thither we adjourned, six passengers of us, all told. We sat there and conversed until near nine o'clock, and then I went out into the bar-room to smoke a cigar, previous to retiring.

In the bar-room I found a bright wood fire burning, and some dozen people were sitting there, smoking, and drinking. (This was long before the introduction of Maine Laws.) Several of the company I joined to be teamsters; a rough, hardy, good-natured set, who were enjoying themselves hugely over a big mug of flip. Then there were several men who lived near the inn—sort of village politicians and newsmongers who made the bar-room their place of social evening meetings.

I had lighted my cigar, and taken a seat near the fire, when I noticed a buffalo skin on the end of the long settee opposite to where I sat, and I was confident there was a human being beneath it. I supposed it might be some stable hand who had been at work hard, or who expected to be up most of the night, and was now getting a little sleep.

I was looking at the buffalo robe, and thus meditating, when I heard a low, deep, death-like groan come up from beneath it, and in a few moments more the robe was thrown upon the floor, and the man who had reposed beneath it came down upon the top of it, and there he lay for some moments like a dead man. I had just started up, when four of the villagers and one of the teamsters hastened to his assistance. They lifted him to his feet, and after considerable effort he managed to stand up.

My God! what a thrill struck to my heart when I saw that face. It was one of noble features; a high brow and amply developed, over which clustered a mass of dark, glossy ringlets; the face beautifully proportioned, and each separate feature exquisitely chiseled. But what an expression rested there now! The great dark eyes had a vacant, idiotic stare; the face was as pale as death, and the lips looked dry and parched. His clothes were torn and soiled, and one of his hands was bloody. He was surely not more than five-and-thirty, and his appearance would at once indicate a man of more than common abilities. But the demon had him, and made him into something below the brute.

"How d'ye feel now George?" asked one of the men who had gone to his assistance.

But he only groaned in reply, and was soon persuaded to lie down again, being told that he'd soon feel better.

As soon as he was on the settee once more, and the buffalo over him, the men returned to their seats.

"Who is that chap?" asked one of the teamsters, looking toward the villagers who had been assisting the unfortunate.

"That's George Lockland," returned a stout honest looking man.

"Does he belong here?"

"Yes. Didn't ye never hear of him?"

The teamster replied that he had not.

"Well" resumed the fat man, "it's too bad, I declare 'tis. Lockland might be one of the first men in town if he had a mind to, but you see he will drink; and the worst of it is, he makes a fool of himself. He can't touch it without doing just as he's doing now. He started here as a lawyer, and a smartione he is, too. Why, he can argue old Upham right out of his boots. But ye see he's lost all his best customers now. They daren't trust him with business 'cause he ain't sure, ev'ery doing it. He's got one of the beautifulest little wives you ever saw; and one of the handsomest children. But, poor things! I pity 'em. Then there's another thing; rum operates different on him from what it does on most folks. It doesn't show itself outside, as it does on almost every body else, but it seems to get him up inside. Ye see how pale he looks—well he's always so; when he's on one of these times. He can't eat nothing, and I don't suppose he'll put a bit of food in his stomach for a week to come."

"How long has he been so?" asked the teamster.

"How d'ye mean?"

"Why, how long both ways: How long since he took to drink, and how long since he's been drunk now?"

"Well, he's took to drink more or less ever since he came home from college; but it's been only about a year that he's been right down hard to it. Ye see folks began to find out how slack he was in his business, and they wouldn't give him any jobs of consequence to do. I s'pose that kind o' set him going in this fashion. And as for this drunk, I should say he'd been on it a fortnight. He's got down now about as low as he can get and live, and I guess he'll get sober in a day or two."

"But where does he get his liquor?" asked the questioner.

"You might ask Mike Fingal that question," was the other's answer.

All eyes were turned upon the landlord, who now stood behind the bar. He was evidently troubled at this turn, and he moved uneasily upon his high stool.

"Mike Fingal," spoke the teamster, "do you sell that man rum?"

"Yes, I do," the fellow replied with an effort. "Don't I sell you the same when you call for it?"

"But I aren't a poor drunkard, and you know it. That aren't no excuse. Mike, I shouldn't think you'd do it."

"But when he wants rum he's bound to have it, and if I didn't jet him have it, somebody else would," the host said.

"Now that's old," energetically pursued the teamster. "On the same ground you might take a pistol and go out and rob folks, because, if you didn't, somebody else would. But that isn't here nor there. The thing is I don't see what kind of a heart you can have to do it."

The conversation was here interrupted by a sound from the street. The wind was still blowing madly, and the snow was driving against the windows, but above the voice of the storm came the wailing of some one in distress. It was surely the cry of a child for help. We were all upon our feet in a moment, and the lantern was quickly lighted. My hat was already on my head—or my cap rather—and I went out with the rest. All went out but the landlord and his wretched customer who occupied the settee. It was some moments before I could see at all, the snow came driving in my face so; but I soon managed to turn my head, and then went on. The wind, as it came sweeping out through the passage to the stable, had piled up a huge pile of snow across the street, and in this bank we found a female with a child in her arms. She had not seen the huge barrier of snow in the dark, and had got completely fast. She seemed faint and frozen, but yet she clung to her child. The man who carried the lantern held it up to her face. The features were half covered with snow, but the momentary glare of the lantern was sufficient to reveal to me a face of more than ordinary beauty.

"Heavens!" uttered the man who lowered the lantern, and caught the woman by the arm; "Kate Lockland, is that you?" But without waiting her reply, he turned to the rest of us and cried, "Here take the child some of you, and I'll carry the mother."

The child was quickly taken, and ere many moments we were back in the bar-room with our burden. The two were taken to the fire and the snow brushed from them.

"Who's them?" asked the host.

"Only Kate Lockland and her child," answered the fat man.

"What d'ye bring 'em in here for?" the host uttered angrily. "Why didn't ye take 'em to your own house, Jim Drake?"

"Cause my house is too far."

The host was coming around the bar, and his eye was flashing with mingled shame and anger, but before he got fairly out, the stout barley teamster who had said so much, started up.

"Mike Fingal," he uttered in tones such as only a man confident of his own physical powers can command, "don't ye put a finger on that woman. Don't ye do it. If ye do it, I'll crush ye as I would a pizen spider!"

Fingall looked the speaker in the eye for a moment, and then muttering something about a man's having a right to do as he pleased in his own house, he slank away behind the bar again.

I now turned my attention to the woman and her child. The former was surely not more than thirty years of age, and she was only a beautiful woman—only she was pale and wan, and her eyes were swollen. She trembled fearfully, and I could see her bosom heave as she tried to choke the sobs that were bursting forth. The child was a girl about four years old. She clung close to her mother, and seemed frightened into forgetfulness of her cold fingers and feet.

"Kate Lockland, what in heaven's name are you doing out this night?" asked Jim Drake.

"Oh I was trying to find your own house, Jim Drake, for I knew you'd give me shelter. But I got lost in the snow. I wouldn't have cried out in front of this place, but my poor child did. Jim Drake have ye seen George? O, God have mercy on him! Poor dear George! He dont know we are freezing and starving, in our own home! No fuel—no food—no—no—"

She stopped and burst into tears, and in a moment more George Lockland leaped to his feet.

"Who called me?" he cried, gazing wildly around.

Kate sprang up instinctively, but ere she reached her husband she stopped. The man saw her, and for us while he was invited to the spot. Soon he gazed around upon the scene about him, and gradually a look of intelligence relieved the utter blank of his hitherto pale and maniac face.

"No fuel! no wood!" he whispered gazing now upon his wife. "Starving! God have mercy! Who was it said these words? Where am I?"

"George? George?" cried the wife now rushing forward and flinging her arms about her husband's neck. "Don't you know me?"

"Kate! No fire! Here's fire!",

"Ay, George Lockland," said Jim Drake, now starting up; "the fire's your own home. Dont ye know where you are?"

Again the poor man gazed about him, and as a fearful shudder convulsed his frame, and his hands involuntarily closed over his eyes, I knew that the truth had burst upon him.

"No fuel! no food!" he groaned.

"Oh, sir," whispered the wife, catching Drake convulsively by the arm, "Take us away from here, Do."

"But your'e cold Kate."

"No, no, no. It's only a little way to your house. I shall do here."

"Will you go home with me George?" Jim asked of the husband.

"Any where" gasped the poor man. "O, my God! No fuel—no food! Kate, Kate! are you hurt?"

But the wife could not speak, and as soon as possible the fat old villager had the lantern in readiness, and half a dozen went to help them.

"Come" he said, "lead George one of you. You take Kate—you are stouter than I—and I will take the little one."

This last was spoken to the stout teamster, and he took the wife in his arms, as though she had been an infant.

"It's only a few steps," said Drake, as he started to go. "I'll send your lantern back, Mike Fingal."

And with this the party left the bar-room. I went to the window and saw them wading off through the deep snow, and when they were out of sight I turned away. The host came out and began to explain matters as I was sick enough already, and with an aching heart I left the room.

On the following morning I came down to breakfast later than usual for I had slept but little thrpugh the night. About nine o'clock the driver came in and told us the stage would be ready in five minutes; I went into the bar-room for a cigar. Jim Drake had just come in to bring the old cloak they had wrapped around the child the night before.

"What'll ye have this morning Jim?" I heard the landlord ask, as he set out a tumbler.

"Nothing," returned the fine man; emphatically. "I'm done, Mike Fingal. I'm done with that stuff; I'll drink no more of it. I wouldn't have come now only poor Lockland was up and his sweet little wife was hanging about his neck. They was crying so, that I couldn't stand it, and I had to clear out. O, it's dreadful, Mike Fingal. You don't know what them poor things have suffered! But they shant have my example any more."

"All ready!" shouted the driver. And I was forced to leave. The wind had all gone down; the air was sharp and bracing, and slowly we wallowed away from the village.

I reached Buffalo two days later than I expected when I set out, and having transacted my business there, I went on to the Mississippi, and so on down to New Orleans. Four years afterward I had occasion to travel that same road again, and stopped in that same village to take dinner. The bar was still open, but Mike Fingal had gone away. I walked out after dinner, and soon came across a neat little painted office, over the door of which I read—George Lockland, Attorney and Counsellor at Law. In less than five minutes after I saw a fat good-natured man coming towards me, whom I at once recognized as Jim Drake. As he came up, I said.

"Excuse me sir, but I wish to ask how Mr. Lockland is getting along now?"

"Squire Lockland, you mean?" he quickly swered with a proud look.

"I did once," said I.

"Then you ought to know better now. He is the first man in the county—the first man in the county—coming, he was just about as low as could be but he started right, and he's almost as high as a man can be. He's ever know the Squires wife."

"I have been her," I replied.

Drake didn't recognize me.

"But you should see her now. Ah, two great change for her. That's their child—that little girl coming this way. And there a little picture for ye?"

I looked and saw a bright-eyed, sunny-haired girl of some eight summers, coming, laughing and tripping along like a little fairy. She stopped as she came to where we stood and put her arms to "Uncle Drake," as she called the old man, and while he was kissing her and chating with her, I moved back once at that happy, beautiful face, just to contrast it with the pale, frightened features I had seen on that dismal night in the bar-room.

From the Boston Mirror, edited by Thomas Davis, Esq.

It is with no ordinary pleasure that we call the attention of our readers to the advertisement to another column, of Dr. W. H. Hayden's Improved Vegetable Purgative Pills, and we can assure our readers that this is not one of the idle humbugs with which the papers are daily crowded, but a truly valuable medicine. We speak from experience, having tested their virtues in our own family. Try them.

"THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST."—An inspired saying, fulfilled in T. W. Stone's Colugh, Consumption and Bronchia Elixir, the best known remedy for coughs, colds, sore throats, &c. Whatever has been done can be done again—so the afflicted need not sink in spirit, but try at once this simple remedy, which has wrought prodigies of wonder.

☞ Reader, are you afflicted with any kind of humors or suffering from the effects of indigestion, flatulency, costiveness, or the piles? If so, consult your physician and he will undoubtedly advise you to procure a bottle of G. W. Stone's Vegetable Liquid Cathartic, as it has been proved a reliable remedy in all the above complaints.

ARRIVAL OF THE

AFRICA

AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 21—P. M.

The Africa reached her dock at quarter past 5—too late to get on board the Eastern boats. She brings about 100 passengers.

The following from Lloyd's agency, may not have reference to the Paris Conference, but is interesting:

"Cygnarus, March 24.—The Cygnarus, Capt. Mayo, arrived here from the Black Sea and Danube, and left Galatz on the 20th inst. She reports that the Russians were burning all the stores and provisions at Galatz, and were leaving the town. The Turks were marching in from Babadagh, and were expected to occupy Galatz on the 21st. The Russians had destroyed the bridge of boats across the Danube, and were burning the houses. The Cossacks were reported to be committing great excesses, and were plundering and murdering the inhabitants. Provisions were becoming extremely scarce, and the people were dying from starvation. Many were reported to be perishing daily in the streets, and the dead bodies were lying unburied. Provisions were also very scarce at Ibraila, and the people were reported to be suffering from starvation."

The weather had been mild and favorable, a change of wind to the West had set in. The large arrivals of shipping had not depressed the firm tone that was observed on Tuesday, but prices remained unchanged. Quotations for Breadstuffs were decided. Quotations for Breadstuffs were moderate extent, for Canada and Western flour, at 38 to 34; Baltimore, 35s a 36s. Very little doing in Indian corn. Philadelphia and Baltimore buyers being unwilling to give quality.

The French Breadstuffs markets are dull. Flour quotations of 40 francs for Paris. Lower qualities of Flour are nominal. Wheat is very depressed at rather less than 40 francs per hectolitre. Corn is quoted at 27 francs per hectolitre.

The Liverpool Cotton Market is unchanged. The market received an impetus from the news of Peace, and prices advanced 1-16d, which advance was subsequently lost. Manchester market active and buoyant. Breadstuffs are generally unchanged. The Baltic sailed.

The Conference.

The Plenipotentiaries have had one informal meetings to settle upon a basis.

The Crimea.

Letters to the 20th March from the Crimea state that the weather was then mild and favorable, and that the Russians were throwing up entrenchments. The Russians were reinforced by the Cossacks of the Don. The Russians had also occupied Kertch. Provisions were becoming scarce. Many deserters were arriving at Kertch. Provisions were becoming more plentiful. Cholera was also prevailing, and was reported to be extremely fatal.

Sebastopol.

Letters from Sebastopol state that the Russians were busily engaged in repairing the fortifications of the town. The Russians had also commenced to erect new batteries. The Russians had also commenced to erect new batteries. The Russians had also commenced to erect new batteries.

THREE DAYS LATER

LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE

AFRICA,

AT NEW YORK.

New York, April 19.

The Africa reached her dock about 20 minutes past 2 — too late to get anything off by the Eastern boats. She brings about 100 passengers.

The following, from Lloyd's List, may or may not have reference to the Pacific:

Pioneers, 24th March.—The Shipwith, Ryan, arrived here, in coming off the Newfoundland coast, fell in with ice to the distance of 200 miles from the land, and saw the lights of a steamer in the ice. The above vessel left St. John's, N. F., 13th February.

Liverpool Cotton Market.

The market received an impetus from the news of Peace, and prices advanced about ¼ per lb., which advance was advised per Baltic.

Manchester market active and business healthy. Breadstuffs are generally unchanged since the Baltic sailed.

The weather has been mild and showery, and a change of wind to the Westward had brought large arrivals of shipping. This had tended to depress the firm tone that was observable on Tuesday, but prices cannot be said to have receded. Quotations are, with business to a moderate extent, for white wheat 9s 9d a 10s 2d; red 9s 3d a 10s. Western canal Flour 30s a 32s 3d. Baltimore, Philadelphia and Ohio 30s a 31. Very little doing in Indian Corn; buyers being unwilling to give over 36s for any quality.

The French Breadstuffs Markets are generally lower.

Lower qualities of Beef continued to be freely offered at rather easier terms, but finer kinds were firm. Pork arrivals small, which maintained quotations, notwithstanding that the demand is limited. In Bacon there has been no change since the recent sales at auction, but holders are firm. Sugar has been active at 6d a ¼ higher, but closed not quite so buoyantly. Small sales of Molasses reported at 18s 6d for clayed Cuba from the quay. Rather more business has been done in Coffee. Freights from Liverpool to the United States reported to New York—Hence 17s 6d to 20s; Dry Goods 12s 6d a 17s 6d; Hardware 12s 6d; Passengers £4 5s gross To Boston—Hence 22s 6d a 25s; Salt 21s; Dry Goods 17s 6d a 20s; Hardware 20s; Earthenware 8s; Passengers £4 5s gross.

The Conferences.

The Plenipotentiaries have had one of two Parisian meetings to settle up details.

The Crimea.

Letters to the 19th March have arrived.—Theatricals were the chief amusements. Notwithstanding the very cold weather, descents are made to the Khernaia, to communicate with the Russians in a friendly way.

During a fire at Khidodoc, among some huts occupied by the Commissariat Works corps, 16 men were burned to death. The bodies had become mere lumps of cinder. The men were probably suffocated before the flames reached them.

The Crimean Spring meeting was in preparation. Russian officers were expected to attend.

All the Crimean letters in the London papers make no further mention of the state of the French army.

Sardinian vessels are preparing to sail from Genoa for the purpose of bringing back the troops from the Crimea.

Britain.

Proceedings in Parliament.—The business in Parliament has been mostly of home interest. Papers were laid before the House of Lords on the subject of Torture Exercise in Madras, to compel the payment of taxes.

Mr Scott moved for a Select Committee of Enquiry into the Ticket of Leave Convict system.

Lord Goderich asked Lord Palmerston whether a document that had recently disappeared, purporting to be a despatch written by the British Minister at Washington, acknowledging his having forgotten to submit the British proposal for adhesion to the Secretary of State of the United States, on the 27th February last, with reference to the existing disputes on the subject of Central America, was authentic.

Mr. Gladstone, before the question was answered, called attention to the delay which had taken place in the production of the papers relative to Central America.

Lord Palmerston replied, that the papers relating to Central America were nearly completed, and they would, he trusted, be laid on the table in the course of a very few days. As to Lord Goderich's question, he replied that the despatch in question was a correct copy of a letter sent by Lord Clarendon to Mr. Crampton; but it must be obvious from the whole despatch, that no inconvenience to the public service had occurred from the accidental delay of Mr. Crampton in presenting the letter, because the same offer of arbitration had been communicated to Mr. Marcy by Mr. Buchanan, the United States Minister to this country.

Mr J. Mitchell asked Lord Palmerston whether British property to the amount of more than £1,000,000 sterling being now locked up in Russia, it was the intension of the government to continue the blockade of the Russian coast pending the ratification of peace, and whether, if the blockade were to cease at once, an arrangement had been made to enable British vessels to enter Russian ports for commercial purposes, without risk of seizure.

Lord Palmerston yesterday stated that the Congress had extended the armistice to land and sea. Hitherto it has been confined to land operations, and did not apply to sea. The reason was obvious. It was doubtful what the issue of the negotiations might be, and it was evident that if free communications by sea had been permitted, a change of position might have been gained by the Russians, which would have materially altered the conditions of the belligerent parties in the event of the renewal of the war. The signature of the treaty of peace having fortunately put an end to all chance of a resumption of hostilities, the Congress yesterday extended the armistice to sea as well as to land, and as a matter of consequence the blockade ceases. With regard to the second branch of the inquiry, it is a question involving other considerations, and I am not at the present moment prepared to give a reply.

A letter from Mr Dallas to the Earl of Clarendon, is published in the English papers, requesting Lord Clarendon to pay over £20 sterling on behalf of the President of the United States to Captain Ferguson, a British seaman, who rescued the crew of an American bark at sea. The money was paid through the Liverpool Sailors' Home to Captain F.

France.

Paris was again illuminated on Tuesday evening, and the illumination of private houses was more general than on Sunday. The reason was, many people understood the illumination following the review as a tribute to the army of the Crimea, a great part of which had appeared upon the ground, and at least this was the feeling of many. The public buildings and embassies were not generally lighted up on this occasion, but private individuals who were out of doors on Sunday took the opportunity of partial illumination in their windows. Alexander 2d at the Russian hotel—also on the Boulevard de Pantin and Boulevard de Strasbourg during the evening. It was observed that the Orleanists and Legitimists, who have hitherto illuminated since 1848, made no demonstration of joy, but on Sunday and Tuesday evenings they were seen in the theatres, hotels, Bt Germain, Mountain and Duchess de Dantzic and Bonaparty quarters in the Fouberg St Germain, where they were remarked. Did they light up to show their sympathy with Russia? The general opinion is that they did.

The Madrid journals of the 23d ult. state that the French Ambassador had given a splendid ball in honor of the birth of the Prince of Asturias.

The Espana mentions a rumor that Don Carlos de la Viktoria had come to an understanding with the pure Progressists, to proclaim the constitution of the present Cortes indefinitely; but it further denies that there was any truth in the report.

In the Cortes the Minister of the Interior, in reply to some observations, justified the government for keeping Catalonia under an exceptional military regime, and he insisted that there was no ground for saying that the press in Spain is not free, as any one on looking at any of the Madrid papers might see.

At Badajas, some alarm had been caused by squabbles between the troops of the garrison and the national guard and burgesses, but they were not of a political character, and were of no great importance.

The new parliamentary Centre had resolved to support the financial plan of the Government, with certain alterations.

The "Reform Party."—The seat of Mr. Wyed, (Republican) representative from Oldtown, was contested early in the session by Moses Woodman. The case was left undecided till the day before adjournment, when by a party vote, and for no other reason than to secure to the contestant his two dollars a day, it was declared that Mr. Wyed was not entitled to a seat. The pay of both was made up, including the whole session. This is done by what the "State of Maine" newspaper calls the "reform party." One of their number, as exemplified in this and other instances, has but to claim a bonus from the public funds, and it is his. That party has made the word "Reform" a by-word and a reproach, and at it now lays serious claim to the name of "reform." Webster's definition of that word will need incidential modification.—Gardiner Journal.

A despatch from Washington states that Speaker Banks positively declines to be a candidate, either for the Presidency or Vice Presidency. Moses H. Grinnell is spoken of for the latter office.

The Expected Duel. The challenge has not yet passed from Col. Lane to Senator Douglass, the former waiting for a retraction of the offensive words, which has been demanded.

M. Perry, American, has been elected Mayor of Albany, over Mr. Quackenbush, Democrat. The latter was at first decided to be elected.

The House Committee on Territories will in a few days report a bill for the admission of Kansas, with her Free State Constitution.

California Steamers,

Carrying the United States Mail.

5th and 20th of each Month.

Reduced Prices. 100 lbs. Baggage Free.

Through Tickets, including transit of the Isthmus, via Panama R. R.

By order of the Postmaster General, the United States Mail Steamers will hereafter be despatched from New York, direct to Aspinwall, on the 5th and 20th of each month.

Passengers are landed at the Railroad Depot, Aspinwall, and conveyed across to the Pacific Steamers without any extra expense. This is the only line giving entire Through Tickets, including meals, on the Isthmus.

Transit made in four hours, entirely by daylight, thus avoiding the great exposure by night in open boats to fever and ague, and 200 miles of dangerous lake and river navigation over rocks and shoals.

Arrangements have now been completed so that the regular U. S. Pacific Mail Steamer will leave Panama for San Francisco immediately on arrival of the Atlantic Mails and passengers, thus securing passengers by the Mail Line a sure and short passage, without any detention on the Isthmus.

☞ Tickets must be signed by one of the Company's Agents before they will be recognized by the Agent at Panama, and Tickets thus signed can be obtained of the only authorized Agent for the Atlantic and Pacific Mail Steamship Companies, in this city. C. L. BARTLETT, Agent,

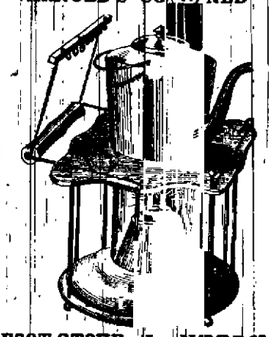
ARNOLD'S COMBINED



FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN, AND NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public.

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling. It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object.

As a LANTERN it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be evened, or get broken, and can be used as a House lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, beside giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities, for toasting tea, &c., it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and is flat-iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat apparatus can be put may be readily conjectured by every one. No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility. To say anything more respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

HELMBOLD'S GENUINE PREPARATIONS.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Buchu.

IS A CERTAIN, SAFE, AND EFFECTUAL REMEDY

For Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel, Dropsy, Weakness, Secret Diseases, Obstructions, Female Complaints, and all Diseases of the Sexual Organs, whether in MALE OR FEMALE,

from whatever cause they may have originated, and

No Matter of How Long Standing,

This popular and specific remedy is now offered to the afflicted, and guaranteed to cure all the above complaints. It searches out the very roots of the diseases, driving out all the diseased fluids of the body, thus removing the cause and rendering the cure

Certain and Permanent.

This medicine allays pain and inflammation, which other remedies invariably cause, and can be taken with less trouble and expense to patients. This infallible remedy has saved thousands upon thousands from the hands of

Merciless Quacks,

if not from premature graves. In cases of infection, the Compound Buchu is the only article worthy of the least confidence of the afflicted in performing

SAFE CURES.

It contains no narcotic, mercury, or other injurious drug, but is a purely VEGETABLE COMPOSITION. It is very agreeable to the taste, creates no perceptible odor, and may be taken by persons of either sex without hindrance from business or medical advice, as plain directions for use accompany the medicine. Reader, if you have any of the above complaints, do not neglect them,

Delays are Dangerous.

With this medicine you can cure yourself, and thus prevent all exposure.

Truth must and will prevail.

This medicine speedily and effectually cures the most virulent form of secret diseases, and eradicates every particle of infectious matter from the patient to a perfect state of Health and Purity. And as a medicine which must benefit everybody, from the simply delicate to the confirmed and despairing invalid, no equal is to be found, it acting both as a Cure and Preventive of any of the above ailments.

HELMBOLD'S
HIGHLY CONCENTRATED
Compound Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla,
—FOR—

Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, exposure and imprudence in life, chronic constitutional disease arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Tetter, Pimples on the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin.

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in various parts of the United States, and have given to patient and practitioner the highest degree of satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed; whether in town, country, hospital, or private practice, they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction, and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects. Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians in the country, and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends. Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

Also, 29 Young Men, of good business tact, with Double Teams and Wagon, and a Cash Capital of from $1000 to $2000 to deposit as security, &c., to act exclusively as Wholesale Agents in the sale of said Medicines to Druggists and Merchants, to whom all traveling expenses will be paid, and salaries the first year from $500 to $700, according to the ability of the applicant.

LET US REASON TOGETHER

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

WHY ARE WE SICK?

IT has been the lot of the human family to be weighed down by disease and suffering. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are specially designed for the relief of the WEAK, the NERVOUS, the DYSPEPTIC, and the INFIRM, of all ages and both sexes and constitutions. Professor HOLLOWAY personally superintends the manufacturing of these Pills in the United States, and submits them to the free and enlightened people of the world as the best remedy the world ever saw for the removal of disease.

These Pills Purify the Blood,

These famous Pills are especially compounded to operate on the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels, the lungs, the skin, and the nervous system, the great seats of derangement in their functions, and the fountains of the blood, the very fountains of life. These Pills are a sovereign remedy for disease in all its forms.

Dyspepsia & Liver Complaint.

Nearly half the human family suffer from these complaints. These Pills will cure them. They are purely vegetable, and contain no mercury or other dangerous drug. Directions for the cure of every disease are affixed to each box, explaining the symptoms of disorders of the liver, dyspepsia, and all the complaints generally connected with these organs. Directions how to take these Pills when all other means have failed.

General Debility, Ill Health.

Many of the most desperate diseases arise from obstructions or stoppages of the natural functions of the human system. Holloway's Pills are especially compounded to remove such obstructions. They act upon the nervous system, the stomach, the liver, the kidneys, and the bowels, through which they communicate to the blood the principles of health, and whatever is wrong in the system is thus expelled. Both the stomach and bowels are strengthened by these Pills, and the whole system is purified, and the vital powers invigorated. Every species of debility, however caused, yields to the influence of these Pills. Every sufferer should give them a fair trial, and they will be found to be exactly adapted to their case. No female, young or old, should be without these celebrated Pills. They are especially suited to the various changes of females of all ages, and are invaluable to those who value health, or who value existence. Many have been carried to the grave who might have been restored to health by the use of these Pills, if they had only been resorted to in time. Those who have been given over by their physicians as incurable, or who have been reduced by the use of mercury, or other poisonous drugs, to a mere wreck of humanity, should not despair, but should persevere in the use of these Pills, as they are certain to purify the blood, which is the only way to reach the seat of disease, and eradicate it from the system. Those who have been salivated by the use of mercury will find a sure cure in these Pills, after all other remedies have failed. Even persons who have been long confined to their beds, and have become helpless, may be restored to health and vigor by the use of these Pills, as they have been the means of raising thousands who were apparently on the verge of the grave, and who were pronounced incurable by their physicians. Let no one despair while these Pills can be obtained, for they are certain to cure.

Female Complaints.

No Female, young or old should be without this celebrated medicine. It corrects and regulates all monthly courses, in all persons, acting in many cases like a charm. It is also the best and safest medicine that can be given to children, for any and for any complaint—no family should be without it, should he without it

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following Diseases.

Asthma	Dropsy	Inward Worms
Bowel Complaints	Debility	Jaundice
Coughs	Fever and Ague	Life-Pills
Colds	Female Complaints	Liver Complaint
Chest Diseases	Headaches	Piles
Costiveness	Indigestion	Rheumatism

The Great European Cough Remedy.

Important to the Consumptive and the Public generally. The celebrated

Universal Cough Mixture

IS a safe and effectual Remedy for Coughs of every description, whether of children, or adults, of recent or long standing.

PREPARED ONLY BY
REV. WALTER CLARK,
Sole Proprietor, Corinna, ville, Maine.

Within the last twelve months thousands of bottles of the Universal Cough Mixture have been sold in the State of Maine alone, and everywhere its extraordinary power in relieving and curing all cases of the worst and longest standing Coughs, is acknowledged, and especially in cases of such old and long standing Coughs, it speedily affords an immediate pleasant sensation in the throat which encircles it, promotes free and easy expectoration, and by removing the exciting cause of the disease, gradually enables the sufferer to throw off and retain sound sleep, who for weeks and months before proved of that blessing.

☞ Sold in trial bottles, 25 cents each; regular bottles, each containing the quantity of two trial bottles, 75 cents each.

Extract of a letter from Daniel Page, Esq., of Bowdoinham, Maine

To Rev. Walter Clark. Dear Sir:—I have used the Universal Cough Mixture which I bought of you, and found it a speedy effectual cure in my case. She had been troubled with a cough for two years—that bottle entirely relieved me.

From Rev. Jesse Hoyt, Esq.

Dear Sir:—I have used your Universal Cough Mixture which you left with me, to some advantage in my family, and in the cases of several others to whom I have given it. It has relieved them from long standing, attended with distressing coughs, and colds, and I believe it will prove a valuable medicine in all cases of coughs, colds, &c. Yours truly, JESSE HOYT.

From Mrs. Fletcher Clay, Corinna, Me.

Dear Sir:—A number of the most extraordinary cures have been effected by your Universal Cough Mixture in this place. Several who had been afflicted with severe coughs and others, who have been confined to their beds with consumption, despairing any benefit, have been restored to health by the use of your Universal Cough Mixture.

From Mrs. Hubbard, Corinna, Me.

To Rev. Walter Clark. Dear Sir:—I have used one bottle of your Universal Cough Mixture for a distressing cough and soreness in the throat, which I had had for several years—had been troubled with it through the winter, and could get no relief, though I used many remedies. I have used your Mixture, and it has given me immediate relief, and I am happy to say entirely cured me. I have recommended to me. I have also used it in my family with the most happy effects. In fact, I have used it in my family for four days—I was entirely cured.
